WAR DRAFT IS A SERIOUS BUSINESS

Numbers Drawn Show Order In Which Men Will Be Called—Anxious
People Watched Bulletin Boards.

The public had hardly realized just what the national lottery for the choosing of men for the U. S. Army would mean until the drawing began Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Because of a necessary change made in the government's plan of selecting men it became apparent early in the day that the Washington authorities had a very arduous task and that the work of drawing numbers would not be completed for many hours.

The numbers were flashed over the wires just as speedily as announced in Washington and they were received by the Journal over its Associated Press wire with great promptness. W. H. DeShara, Associated Press operator, who had been on duty until 2 a. m., resumed his work at 8 o'clock and kept at the telegraph key until an early hour this morning with very few brief intermissions. Extra workers were employed in posting and announcing the numbers as quickly as received and all during the day and far into the night a throng of interested spectators was in front of the Journal office reading the bulletin lists. The bulletins as posted gave first the number of the capsule drawn in Washington and then the serial number enclosed. Numbers from 1 to 2386 applied to Morgan county.

Hundreds of telephone inquiries came during the day, not only from Jacksonville and Morgan county, but from surrounding counties. A view of those who continually watched the bulletins and the voices of those who called by telephone indicated the keen interest of the people in the drawing. Among the inquiries were many anxious mothers who had no thought of disloyalty but who evidently at the same time were hoping that "their boys" number would not be drawn until far down in the list and thus make sure that he would not be summoned in the first draft.

The understanding is that Morgan's quota will be about 175 men. It is estimated that 400 or 500 persons will appear before the exemption board before 175 men have been accepted. This takes into account the various exemptions that there will be in accordance with the government's announced rules, and other exemptions sure to come because of physical unfitness.

By the plan the government finally adopted the names of all of those registered have been drawn. After enough have been summoned, examined and passed upon to cover the present quota of 175, this county will not be called upon to supply other soldiers until a second draft is made. When that comes men will be called in the government's numerical order as fixed by the drawing yesterday. This of course means that those who were drawn late have an excellent chance of escaping service, unless the war continues for years.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

The Big Family.

Our family, in times of peace, has many rows and wrangles; it sometimes takes the town police to quell our little jangles. Then mother, losing all her tact, complains of which and father and sister reads the riot act, and sister nags her brother. Sometimes the pans and skillets fly heaved by indignant tosser, and uncle catches, with his eye, perhaps a cup or saucer. Sometimes our grandma takes a broom and knocks the dust from auntie, and now and then we wreck a room, and fairly rock the shanty. But if a neighbor seeks our door, with warlike fuss and bluffing, we cease our rows forevermore, and from him know the stuff. Forgotten every grievance then, all friction has an ending; the women line up with the men, our little shack defending. In normal times this happy land is full of noisy friskers, who see that harmony is canned, and pull each other's whiskers. A stranger standing on a height, our ways not understanding would think we lived to whoop and fight some neighbor's scalp demanding. But when outsiders come along, to max in, uninvited, we cease to thrash the private wrong, and we all stand united.

EXAMINATION OF CITY'S BOOKS SHOW
BOND SHORTAGE MORE THAN $23,000

Many questions have been asked with reference to the city's improvement bond deficiency fund, which now totals something more than $23,000. It is proposed to provide for this deficiency by the issuance of bonds in the sum of $23,000 and that question will be up to the voters at the election next Tuesday.

Below is a sworn statement made by William F. Widmayer, commissioner of accounts and finances; R. L. Pyatt, city clerk, and Charles B. Graff, city treasurer, showing the actual deficiency in the various improvement funds and other facts about the funds which will be of general interest.

The original shortage found when the books were audited was more than $49,000. Payments were made by the bondsmen of Mr. Morrissey to the amount of $30,000 and other payments of $15,000 were made but thru all these years the interest has been running on and the total today is more than $23,000. This sum is an actual obligation of the city and sooner or later it must be paid either thru the voluntary act of the city or after suits have been brought by the bond holders who have failed to receive their money.

It is not possible to give a list of all persons or firms holding these bonds on which payment is now long past due, but the following owners are known: Illinois college, $5,200; Ricker National Bank, of Quincy, $300; Hanchett Bond Co., Chicago, $300; Guaranty Savings Bank, Chicago, $2,000; Leslie Cooper, Chicago, $1,000; Kemp Commercial Bank Chelsea, Mich., $3,500.

After bonds have been purchased the ownership is frequently changed and no city is able to keep an exact record of the ownership of all bonds. The sworn statement which is given below should settle the question as to whether or not the city actually has a public improvement bond deficiency totaling $23,000.

TO ASSIST GROWERS OF PERISHABLES

Secretary of Agriculture Calls Conference on Fruit and Garden Products.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—"It is of the first importance that every assistance shall be given to growers of perishables in the marketing of them, and also that surpluses shall be preserved thru every approved means," said Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture today, (April 17) at the opening of a conference which he had called.

Further aid in caring for surplus fruits and vegetables, especially the products of home orchards and gardens, is the object of this conference called by the Secretary of Agriculture and which will continue for a couple of days or as long as may be necessary. Secretary Houston has caused a telegraphic survey to be made showing just where there are more fruits and vegetables of home growth than can be consumed in the usual way and the conference will endeavor to provide means of relief in these sections.

In order that there may be full information as to the supply of containers and driers, and in order that the trade requirements and conditions may be thoroughly understood the Secretary invited the following representatives of trade interests and they are in attendance on the conference:

Committee on Fruit and Garden Products.
W. M. Wilkes, Indianapolis, Ind., (Representing Van Camp Packing Co.)

H. W. Phelps, New York City, (Vice Pres. American Canning Co.)
G. Thomas, Washington, D. C., (B. F. Sturtevant Co.)

F. E. Gorrell, Washington, D. C., (Secretary National Cannery Association.)
J. O. Ross, Boston, Mass., (B. F. Sturtevant Co.)

F. C. Ball, Muncie, Indiana (Pres. Ball Glass Mfg. Co.)

In addition to A. D. Lasker of Lord & Thomas, Chicago, who is serving as chairman of the committee and who will remain in Washington for some weeks to direct this particular activity, others participating in the conference are: C. J. Brand, Chief, Bureau of Markets; Dr. C. L. Albright, Chief, Bureau of Chemistry; Clarence Quayle, Assistant to the Secretary; and John Callon O'Laughlin, Washington, D. C. (newspaper correspondent.)

Secretary Houston's Address.
In greeting the conference Secretary Houston said:

"My first thought is that of appreciation of your prompt and patriotic response to my request to attend this conference. I realized that you have urgent business at home but I was confident that you would set aside any private interests at this time to render assistance to the Government. I am grateful to you for your presence and your willingness to assist us.

"The farmers, aided by nature, have made a magnificent response to the appeals of the President for increased production. Not only is there a prospect of large crops of certain staple products but it is apparent that there will be particularly large output this year of perishables. Many agencies throughout the country have especially urged the people, not only in the country districts but also in urban communities, to plant gardens. There is therefore not only an increased production in the usual areas but a considerable addition in these new places.

The Marketing of Perishables.
"The marketing of perishables presents peculiar difficulties. They must be marketed promptly. The danger always is that of bad distribution and of a glut of the markets. There is a further danger that, either thru inability to reach the markets or thru neglect, a very large part of the perishable products will be lost to the consuming world. It is therefore of the first importance that every assistance shall be given to growers of perishables in the marketing of them, and also that surpluses shall be preserved thru every possible means.

Schools are urged also to offer special intensive courses thru the summer months to train mechanics and machine operatives of various types.

There are over 500 special schools available for service of the kind indicated now on the lists of the Bureau of Education, according to the Department statement, and these schools have been asked to notify the Commissioner of Education at once as to the plans that will be adopted for carrying out the suggestions of the Government.

Mrs. W. L. Jones and daughter, Shirley Lee, will leave the first of the week for their home in Detroit after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. George Jones. Mr. Jones, who made a shorter visit, has returned to his work in Detroit.

FIRE DEPARTMENT
EXPENSE IS HEAVY

Motorization Would Mean Sharp Cut in Operation Costs—New Equipment Plan Explained by Mr. Martin.

Figures from the city records which have been compiled by Commissioner Martin show that for the year ending June 1, 1917, expenses of the Jacksonville fire department totaled $3,514.17. The itemized expenses were as follows:

Feed, $1870.70.
Shoeing, $833.45.
Repairs, $509.76.
Oil, $46.73.
Supplies, $238.48.
Horse hire, $115.30.
Horses purchased, $547.50.
Veterinary Surgeon's services, $62.25.

During a half of this year the feed expenses were not very much more than normal. Based on present high prices, the expenses of the department for 1918 would be very materially increased. The records of the department show that last year for 51 days in succession there was not a single call. Then one run was made and afterward followed a period of 30 days in which there was not a single firm alarm. Yet thru all these days the expenses were running on just the same.

Present Expenses. Mr. Martin's estimate is that in the course of a year's time the general expense for motorized equipment could be: Gasoline, $100 to $120; Barrel of oil, $20 to $22; Grease, about a like amount. There would be in all probability some incidental expense but a saving of from $2,000 to $2,500 a year in operation can easily be made. These figures have no relation to increased efficiency and refer to the proposed motorization of the fire department simply as a matter of economy.

In talking about the proposed change Mr. Martin said recently: "The equipment the city will have if the department is motorized would include one triple combination motor truck with chemical and hose attachment. This truck will include a six cylinder pump able to deliver 750 gallons of water a minute. The two other trucks will be of similar type but smaller, each equipped with a pump delivering 350 gallons a minute.

The Plan for Work. "We propose to keep the better of the two engines we now have on hand for reserve purpose and in case of a great fire it would be possible with the three motor driven trucks and this engine to deliver 2200 gallons of water a minute. If we had this new equipment the plan followed would be when an alarm comes in to immediately respond with one of the junior trucks. Then if it was found that the fire was of large proportions the heavy truck would be sent and the second junior truck kept at the department for use in case of an alarm from some other part of the city. Quite frequently in the past losses have occurred because of two fires at the same time. We have not had reserve equipment, and furthermore, it has not been possible with horses to move apparatus quickly from one part of the city to another. In case of a very large fire the three motor trucks and the engine we now have could be utilized. I have investigated this proposition thoroughly in a number of cities and in every case motorized equipment has given greater efficiency and has cut down the cost of operation."

HARVEST NEAR NAPLES ABOUT COMPLETE

Threshing Work Has Begun in Earnest—$140 Given To Red Cross
Work—News Notes.

Naples, July 20.—John Haley is having his residence improved and beautified by means of papering,
painting and other annexations.

Mrs. Edward Gregory was visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Van Hying, in Bluffs on Thursday.

Rev. George E. Haas and wife are home from a week's visit among old friends and neighbors at Huntsville, Schuyler, county, and vicinity. They report a most delightful time and say it was "eat, drink and be merry"

sure enough for seven days.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mayes and little daughter Lena, Mrs. L. Grabel and Mrs. Milt Moore were in Jacksonville one day the past week, going over in the Mayes car.

Cards from John Ritter and daughter, Mrs. John Pine, who are visiting in Maryland and points of interest in the east, state that they are enjoying full time with good health and weather.

Mrs. Haas' Sunday school class of boys and Mrs. Hamilton's class of girls of the M. E. church had a fine day Wednesday picnicking in Nichols park, Jacksonville. Three Fords and one Overland were used to carry the bunch of twenty to and fro.

Mrs. Bert Thompson spent part of Thursday in Bluffs.

Naples' apportionment of Scott county's Red Cross allotment was $100.00. In a short time the contribution reached $140.00.

Mrs. Ken Hatfield and daughter, Lela, and Mrs. George Abrams were callers in Pike county's capital, Pittsfield, Tuesday.

The Methodist church ice cream social at Oxtile Thursday evening was a very successful affair in every way.
It was held on the "heights" immediately east of town. The pupils of the Sunday school gave a short and pleasing program of music and recitations.

Carl Ritter accompanied by Mrs.
Ken Hatfield, drove to Macomb
Thursday in the Ritter car, returning Friday. Misses Beulah Hatfield and Bessie Chapman, students in special work in the Normal there the past six weeks, returned home with them.

All the wheat and most of the oats are in shock hereabouts. The weather for harvest has been ideal, insuring the crop being gathered and granaried in excellent condi-

RUSSIA NOT LIKELY TO MAKE SEPARATE PEACE

Opinion of President American-Russian Chamber of Commerce-Makes Statement of Conditions in Russia—Resolution was Spontaneous Outburst Against Existing Rule.

New York, July.—Russia, as now constituted, is as little likely to make a separate peace as is the United States, in the opinion of C. H. Boynton, of New York, president of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Boynton, who is now in Petrograd, has forwarded to the organization, of which he is president, a statement on the conditions in Russia, in which he presents an optimistic view of the Russian outlook. Wherever separate peace has been mentioned, it has been howled down with indignation, he writes. Efforts made by the Russian extremists to create disorders have been overthrown not by armed force but by the force of public opinion. "If in the future appearances in Russia should seem alarming," Mr. Boynton asserted, "the real situation will be in the hands of a ministry composed of the best Russia can offer." He predicted that the task of re-organizing the government's policies will be accomplished before many months.

Industrial operations, according to Mr. Boynton, would at present meet insurmountable obstacles owing to the requirements of the war; but he declared that American capital and merchants interested in the Russian field, should lose no time in preparing and equipping themselves for the huge commercial business which, in his opinion, is certain to be co-existent with the end of the war. Mr. Boynton's statement follows:

An Absolute Democracy.
"That one may have a fair and just appreciation of the events which have taken and are yet to take place in Russia, it is necessary to understand the psychology of the situation.

A nation under a rule of absolute autocracy for centuries suddenly found itself an absolute democracy. Almost overnight autocratic Russia became the most liberal democracy in the world. Liberty, freedom and equality were proclaimed and political exiles and agitators were admitted within their borders from wherever arriving. A nation that had not dared to express its individual feelings or opinions, either in writing or in speech, was released from all restraint. Years of repressed ideas and sentiments were able to find full vent. The government has allowed every phase of political discussion, and even that of such an extremist as Lenin, to proceed without interference and refused every suggestion of repression. If under these circumstances there should be a babble of conflicting opinions and some fanatic agitation, it is not only understandable, but indeed quite natural. The wisdom of the policy of permitting unrestricted assemblage and discussion was evidenced in the quick stamping out of anarchistic preaching by the power of public opinion.

"This was no planned nor even organized revolution. It was a spontaneous outburst of dissatisfaction and resentment against existing rule so unanimous that an empire became a democracy with the least bloodshed that ever overturned a long established reign. Keep straight before you the fact that this has been a political revolution. The problems now confronting the government are both social and political. Social evolution must follow political revolution. In a nation so huge and of such diversified interests, time, courage and patience must be allowed for clear understanding and adjustment. The marvel is that with restraint and control absolutely removed, disorder has been so inconsequential.

Nation Show Self-Restraint
"The possibilities from the dangers of disorganization were enormous, especially as many criminals were set at liberty, and yet there has been no vandalism and no invasion of personal rights, except the few local instances located in the centre of violence during the days of the actual revolution. The self-restraint and moderation shown by the entire nation is the best tribute to its sobriety, solidarity and reasonableness and the best promise of what the future has in store. The Russian people are naturally home-loving and of peaceful disposition. They are neither arrogant nor quarrelsome. Agitators may temporarily cloud their point of view by misrepresentation and selfish design, but just as certainly they will return to their normal psychology.

"To understand the demonstration of last week, (May 4) which on its surface looked menacing and grave, it must be kept in mind that in Russia such demonstrations are the only method by which popular opinion can find expression. There has been no suffrage and therefore the ballot was represented by so-called demonstrations. Whatever further occurrences of this sort take place must be so interpreted. On the day of the 21st, (May 8, Gregorian calendar) when the government took its positive stand against the extremists, it was possible to see in these demonstrations the quick turn in public sentiment. Within two hours after the anti-government parade passed up the Nevsky, the streets were filled with cheering supporters of the government, and the efforts of the extremists to create disorders were quickly overthrown, not by armed force, but by the force of public opinion. The Soldiers' and Workmen's Deputies denied responsibility for the agitation and investigation proved that the whole movement came from agitators with ulterior motives. The result has been wholesome and a decided strengthening of the government's position.

Disorders Were Local.
"It should not be overlooked that these disorders were local and that the nation at large, so enormous in territory, quietly pursued its ordinary vocations. Since that day there has not been the slightest disturbance or demonstration anywhere. A recent meeting of the governors representing nearly all European Russia showed that the nation at large supported the Provisional Government. "The future will hold other occasions when superficial appearances will seem alarming, but the real situation will be in the hands of a ministry which, even the most critical acknowledge, is composed of the best Russia can offer. These men are working patriotically to the limit of their physical abilities to bring modern progressive methods into government machinery that had become rusty and ineffective. It will take time to re-organize the government's policies, and executive administration, but the men who are burdening themselves with the task are certain to realize the fruits of their labors before many months.

"The commercial and business opportunities lie in every branch of industry and trade, just as much as confronted the United States one hundred years ago. War has created a scarcity of labor and the war's necessities practically monopolize transportation facilities. Thus immediate industrial operations would encounter almost insurmountable obstacles and heavy financial commitments for new enterprises would not be justifiable at this time. Merchants everywhere seek American goods and orders are the easiest of things to secure, but deliveries are impossible, except for such goods as the government permits for the requirements of the war. There is a world's shortage of tonnage and no private enterprise or opportunity can be permitted to occupy one yard of space that energetic prosecution of the war requires.

Must Take Preliminary Steps.
"Russia has few ports, and the full transportation facilities from them are more than necessary for handling absolutely essential freight. In refusing to permit private enterprises to hinder the war's requirements, Americans must recognize that Russia is taking a proper step to assist her allies to win the essential victory. To this end all else must temporarily be subjected. This condition is likely to continue as long as the war lasts, but on the other hand, American capital and merchants interested in the Russian field should not lose a moment's time in having their representatives in this field studying connections, learning where the opportunity in their particular lines lie, informing themselves of the requirements of the Russian trade in all its details, obtaining knowledge of the people and their language, in order to facilitate negotiations and thereby equip themselves for the huge commercial business which is certain to be coincident with the close of the war. Those who neglect to take advantage of the present for these preliminary steps will find that when the war is ended others who have done so will have a decided advantage and the field will be occupied by these and others who are geographically nearer Russian markets.

"The new government is re-drafting laws relating to finance, trade and industry in such a way as to facilitate the rapid economic development of Russia and allow broad expansion of her commercial and industrial life. Russia opens her arms to serious business men whose object is not traffic in concessions, but actual development and production, and for such her terms are sure to be liberal.

Occupies Fortunate Position.
"America occupies a fortunate position in relation to the people of this nation, who have been sentimentally touched by the evidence of American friendship and our quick recognition of the new government. President Wilson's address to congress, in which he set forth America's attitude towards the war has been recognized as practically expressing the same views as are held by the Provisional Government, and Tzeretelli, who is one of the leaders of the Left, emphatically denied to the Duma that his party was considering separate peace, and stated that it was an outrage against patriotic men to attempt to place upon them the burden of such a position. The embassy and consulate officials are in close touch with the new government and everywhere Americans received the most courteous and cordial attention.

"The High Commission which Russia is sending to the United States should receive greatest consideration and the United States, as well as Russia, will benefit immensely by the information which can be mutually exchanged.

"Wherever separate peace has been mentioned, it has been howled down with indignation and, unless my judgment is entirely astray, Russia, as today constituted, is as little likely to make a separate peace as is the United States."

FINE ESTATE DONATED TO USE OF SOLDIERS

"Bunker Hill", Celebrated Show Place of North Illinois River Country, Taken Over to Men in Training at Rockford.

Rockford, Ill., July 20.—"Bunker Hill", a beautiful summer home estate and one of the most celebrated show places of the Northern Illinois river country, has been turned over without reservation to the use of Illinois soldier boys who are called to Rockford for training in September.

This lovely stretch of Woodland and plateau, located on the east bank of the Rockford river opposite the sweep of clear water where the Kishwaukee flows into the larger stream, climbs upward from the southern boundary line of the great army city that is taking shape to house selective troops. It includes twenty-five acres in a well kept park whose terraces surmount to the handsome summer cottage above. The estate has been donated to Uncle Sam by the daughters of the late Ralph Emerson who desire that men in training here will be given every facility for comfort and pleasure in the "Bunker Hill" recreation ground a place to meet and entertain mothers, relatives, sweethearts and friends away from the rush and roar of the training camp, but near enough to it to observe every detail of the military panorama. A handsome shelter and out door room will be built at once near the cottage, the later will be turned over to form an army club house where soldiers and their visitors may visit, read or dance at any hour of the day or evening. It is planned to furnish luncheons at cost to the troops and visitors. Leading society ladies of Rockford are outlining a wholesome entertainment program to be financed by their own organization that will make the off duty hours of Illinois boys a constant round of worth while pleasure.

Two river steamers have been taken from their ships above the Rock river dam in Rockford and are being overhauled, preparatory to launching in the deep channel that will afford a scenic waterway from city to army camp. They will ply hourly between the two points, touching at camp docks and again at "Bunker Hill" in the down trip. Donors of the handsome recreation grounds who already have every detail of the plan under way, conceived the idea thru visiting relatives on the border last summer. They found that no provision for the entertainment of visitors to Illinois troops had been made at Camp Wilson, and the lack of such convenience proved a great hardship both to soldiers and their civilian friends.

With more than three thousand men at work, the new army city on July 16 rounded the first lap of its construction period. A new railroad switch was begun to give trackage facilities for construction in the third group of regimental barracks units and foundation work was completed for the 250,000 gallon water tank that will give the needed pressure for the artesian well. A score of workmen are busy at drilling the well which will be the center for the excellent water supply system planned by hydraulic experts. A complete rebuilding of the sanitary facilities is now under way, following the arrival of one hundred cars packed to the guards with water and sewer pipes. A fire engine house has been completed on the site and has been given a complement of firemen and motor equipment by Chief Thomas of the Rockford fire department. Chief Thomas has undertaken to protect the big government property against the constant danger of fire during the construction period and the big fire hazard in the wooden city is daily being reduced thru his co-operation with the camp patrol from M. Company. Passes have been issued to civilians who have legitimate business in camp but armed sentries enforce the safety regulations about the site and bar entrance to camp after 9 p. m. Motorists to Rockford from points in the middle west have received the most courteous treatment from military authorities and have been allowed to view every detail of the building work.

Sheriff Guy Ginders, who rounded up a total of 136 slackers on June 6 following registration day, and 112 of whom were sentenced to prison, has turned over the facilities of his office to Major D. H. Sawyer and other army men in charge of camp establishment and is co-operating in the campaign against vice within a ten mile radius of camp. Work has been started under the direction of President J. H. Camlin of the Chamber of Commerce on four public comfort stations, seven information and complaint stations and a big auditorium in the city. It is estimated that one thousand new houses and fifty new store buildings will be completed in the city before September 1 to care for the rush of city development.

FRANKLIN RED CROSS BRANCH ORGANIZED

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Friday Night at Olinger's Hall—Branch Has Initial Membership of 475—Officers Elected and Committees Chosen

The Franklin branch of the Morgan County Red Cross was organized Friday evening at an enthusiastic meeting held in Olinger's hall. M. B. Keplinger, who had charge of the preliminary campaign, called the meeting to order and served as temporary chairman. The Franklin membership, to date, is 475 and in addition there are some twenty-five or thirty memberships which have not been officially reported.

The young ladies' drum corps, headed by G. H. Wyatt, furnished music prior to the meeting. The hall was well filled and the spirit of co-operation manifest at the meeting speaks well for the support given Red Cross activity in Franklin precinct.

On motion of Luther Wiley, the chairman appointed a nominating committee consisting of the Rev. W. E. Keenan, W. N. Luttrell, William Whalen, Mrs. W. M. Rees and Miss Grace L. Hill. While this committee was in session, talks were made by Hugh Green and Thomas Hopper of Jacksonville and the Rev. J. N. Jerman and the Rev. James Todd, Jr., of Franklin.

W. N. Luttrell then presented the following nominations as the report of the committee.

Chairman—Dr. F. H. Metcalf.
Vice Chairman—Dennis Whalen.
Secretary—Miss Lou Duncan.
Treasurer—Miss Alice Criswell.
Executive Committee—Dr. F. H. Metcalf, chairman; Mrs. Fred Eberh, Chas. E. Cussins, Miss Rhoda Scott, Miss Katie Reed, Lewis Roberts.

Board of Directors—Dr. F. H. Metcalf, chairman; Rev. Fr. Smith, Rev. J. N. Jerman, Rev. James Todd, Jr., Rev. W. E. Keenan, Dr. J. B. Perkins, Dr. J. M. Elder, Mrs. W. M. Rees, Mrs. Geo. Schaaf, Mrs. Frank Miller, Miss Grace L. Hill, Wm. Whalen, Miss Grace Armstrong, Luther Wiley, Mrs. Samuel Darley, Bert F. Rawlings, Wm. L. Wells, Chas. Criswell, Miss Maude VanWinkle, Mrs. Oscar Harmon, Mrs. Albert Lukeman, Mrs. Frank P. Ryan, Mrs. Sallie Wyatt.

Chairman Campaign Committee—M. B. Keplinger, with power to appoint publicity, finance and other organization committees.

On motion of Mr. Luttrell the report of the committee was adopted, after which Dr. Metcalf was called for and made a few remarks, accepting the chairmanship and pledging earnest work.

IMPORTANT LAND TRANSFERS MADE

Gates Strawn Has Purchased Interest Held by Number of Heirs in Farm of 1158 Acres.

During recent days a number of deeds have been placed on record showing that Gates Strawn has acquired certain interests in a farm tract of 1158 acres belonging to the estate of the late Julius E. Strawn. This high class farm land is located in the vicinity of Alexander. Mr. Strawn, who is administrator of the estate, by inheritance owned a one-sixth interest. Some time since certain of the heirs offered to sell their interest to him and he made the purchase. Then as a matter of fairness he wrote to other heirs stating the case plainly and offered to buy their shares at the same price per acre if they wished to sell.

As a result of these transfers Mr. Strawn now owns from five-eighths to three-fourths of the entire tract. Among heirs who have recently made transfers to Mr. Strawn are the following: Gattie S. Mathews, Ella S. Melvin, Clifton Strawn, Irving Strawn, Anna Robinson, Katie Strawn, Pearl Kumble, Grace Armstrong, Mabel Strawn, Harold Strawn, Frances Dickson, Augusta Holsack, John B. Strawn, Charles M. Strawn, A. S. Seymour.

In a conversation yesterday Mr. Strawn made an interesting statement about the increase in the value of this land since he has served as administrator of the estate. Soon after he entered upon his duties he was offered $120 an acre for the land, and in the few years succeeding there have been six or seven offers, each at an appreciable advance over the original price. This Mr. Strawn takes as indication that the value of farm lands in Morgan county shows a steady upward tendency.

GRIERSON PREDICTS GRAVE EVENTS NEAR

Famous Author Declares Germany Fears Celtic Political Will of America More Than She Does England.

Jacksonville people will be especially interested in an article which appeared recently in the Public Ledger of Philadelphia, written by Waldemar Tonnar about Francis Grierson, who is the now famous author of "The Invincible Alliance," in which he predicted that a great war would come. Mr. Grierson is a cousin of the late Gen. B. H. Grierson of this city. The article mentioned makes special point of the prediction made by Mr. Grierson that grave developments in the war will occur within the next three months. The Public Ledger's article is as follows:

Francis Grierson, the famous author of "The Invincible Alliance," published in 1913, predicted the great war and what it would do for England's politics and commerce. He was the first to point out the imperative necessity of an Anglo-American unity.

Eminent writers have declared Grierson's antebellum predictions to be the result of some gift akin to clairvoyance, so precisely and pointedly did he describe the great events that would come to England after the declaration of hostilities.

Mr. Grierson has lived long in Russia, France, Germany and England. He went everywhere, saw everything worth seeing and met every one of political and social importance in the European capitals.

Three of Francis Grierson's cousins were military leaders—Lord Wolsey, the late commander-in-chief of the British army; General Sir James Grierson, who died at the front in France, and General Benjamin Henry Grierson, the cavalry leader in the American Civil war.

Mr. Grierson, who is now living in Washington, when asked his impressions of present conditions, said:

"First, let me say that warfare does not change a people but the conditions under which people live. The war has already worked two things that border on the miraculous. It has made Washington the world's capital as well as banker. The present epoch is one of scientific achievement developed in an atmosphere of romance so strange, so new, so unexpected as to partake of the fab fables."

Washington World's Capital
"Not more than one person in a thousand can realize what is happening. Present events are as dazzling to the mind and imagination as fireworks are dazzling to the eye. We are being hurried through changes so great that it will take a long time for some people to awaken to the facts. Historical events are nothing but the old times played with new variations, and because the variations are new many think they are listening to a new time."

"War affects four elements—finance, commerce, society and religion. The financial world is the first to be affected, religion the last. Now, when I say that Washington has suddenly become the world's capital, I do not mean that it simply stands for the world's democracy the world's political liberty. Without vast material power America, at this terrible crisis, would count for nothing. For what force was it that impelled English, French and Italian statesmen, orators, military leaders and financiers to risk their lives in the danger zone and hurry to Washington as intently as the devout Mohammedan hurries to Mecca? They sought the material aid that only money can give, without which there can be neither armies nor ships nor war."

"And let me say that for those of us who know from long experience what conservatism in England means, the sight of a man like Mr. Balfour leading an imperial commission down Pennsylvania avenue, from the national capitol, past the Sherman statue to the White House, made some of us wonder whether we were standing in Bagdad or bedlam, and it took some time for us to realize that Washington had suddenly become endowed with the power that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome."

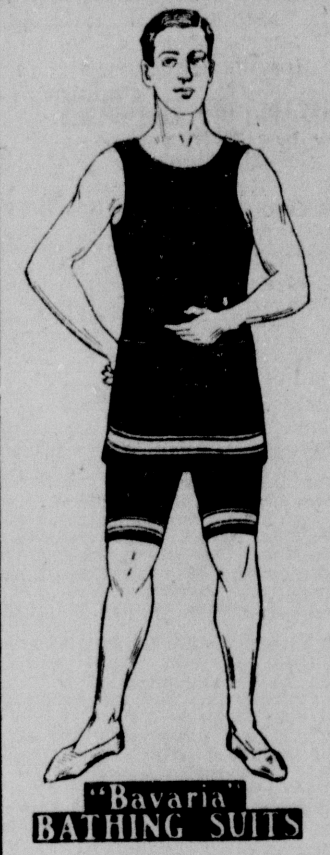

"People are talking of the wonders of the Russian revolution, but the greater wonder of the whole war is this visit of the British commission to America. Not only did they come seeking material aid in a death grapple with tyranny, they came to endorse by their presence every word spoken by President Wilson in the most fateful message delivered since Cato's investives in the Roman senate—a message which made England see that imperialism cannot exist without practical democracy and home rule for Ireland."

Another wonder of the war is the harmony displayed by both the Puritan and the Celtic spirit in America.

"You ask me what will crush the Teuton juggernaut?"

"I answer: the combination of Protestant and Catholic forces in this country. Prussia fears the Celtic political will in America more than she fears the English of England. The fighting instinct in the Celt can never be surpassed. No people know this better than the Prussians. Home rule in Ireland will prove the biggest nail in the coffin of German materialism. That event will have many unseen ramifications. If Prussia materialism wins this war then Protestantism and Catholicism in America both sink in the maelstrom of tyranny together. But Celtic enthusiasm will work marvels from now on. If there is one thing more gripping, more formidable than Teutonic tyranny it is Celtic tenacity, and in this country there are many millions of Scotch, Irish and Welsh and their descendants, who will never consent to the sway of German imperialism."

"Materialism must be opposed by the thing it is fighting, and that thing is idealism, without which the whole world is but an empty egg-shell. The new idealism means democracy for all the nations; the uncrowned heroes will leave no place for crowned imbeciles. And let me say that the war will only be won when Americans begin to hate the banditti who are seeking both their lives and their fortunes.

"Without liberty America will have a past but no future. So far the English have displayed an astounding degree of sentimentalism in dealing with their cautious foes. There are sentimental writers and speakers in England who declare that they are not fighting the Germans but the Kaiser, a suggestion calculated to gladden the hearts of the savages who have already wrecked half Europe and would wreck this country in the same way.

"The fact is we have to display a greater degree of hatred toward the Teuton hordes than we displayed in any war ever waged by Americans. To fight mechanically would mean to fight like automatons. If we do not love what we are fighting for, the heartiest of people who love the thing they fight for. There is no middle ground. glx JUSMO immfwa zaar 12 121

"If you ask what the near future has in store, I may say that the Prussians have not arrived at the most critical period of the war. They are counting on sudden new combinations, fresh surprises growing out of the Russian revolution, new developments on the part of sentimental reactionaries in England and America, and socialistic imbrologios.

"Russian psychology is both subtle and nimble, and the forlorn hope is not yet. A careful analysis of the present situation leads me to expect important developments in Prussia and Austria on July 14 to 18. There will be grave incidents and pronouncements during the first and second weeks in August, and from the 14th to the 16th of September. Russia will experience three phases in the new life of the nation before the establishment of a solid government.

"What we have to bear in mind in America is not the shifting events in Russia but the solidarity of America as aims and interests. Russia is as good as freed from the morbid monster of Czardom, while we are still under the military ban of the Kaiser and his cohorts, and we have hardly begun hostilities.

Drastic Readjustments
"We have to realize the fact that the war waged by the American revolutionists against British aggression can in no way be compared with this war against Prussian militarism. We are fighting along new lines, under new conditions, unheard-of combinations; so do not be surprised when hostilities cease if we have to fight with our brains in the place of bombs.

"The great readjustment will begin in England as soon as her soldiers return to their homes. The great readjustment will begin in America when the same thing happens here. But we shall soon see that this war means a fierce battle of our own rights and liberties, quite independent of anything that goes on in Europe. It is not true that England is the chief guardian of democracy at this juncture. America is now the acknowledged leader in the great strife, and the whole world looks toward this country with serene confidence. The slightest hesitation on our part would produce appalling results both here and abroad. The readjustments—political, social and industrial—that are coming after the war will be drastic; to many quite as surprising as anything the English have experienced up to the present.

"People who think the most vital events are happening at the front are laboring under strange and fantastic illusions. The actual fighting is but the overture to the great political and social drama yet to come, and many of our leaders in Congress will find difficulty in sitting thru their term, to say nothing of talking. Congress at Washington will be in a ferment because some hundreds of provincial members will oppose twenty or thirty who possess the larger cosmopolitan vision demanded by the new conditions in a world that will seem impossibly new to a good many millions of people."

He sold to a Jacksonville man a diamond weighing 4 1-2 karats, and the purchase price was something more than $1,500. This was certainly an unusual sale for this or any other community.
